1979 was a year of considerable success for BIOSOC. Membership numbers were up on previous years and steins received good support. Income exceeded expenditure by a small margin - a pleasant change.

Field excursions featured strongly on the year's itinerary, notable events included an Easter tramp to Mount Oxford State Forest, a visit to the Glenarriffe salmon trap and a mid-winter weekend at Cass field station.

A Biological Survey was made of Oruawairua (Blumine) Island in the Marlborough Sounds and this resulted in a preliminary report being presented to the Park Board.

BIOSOC looks forward to 1980.
